II. EVALUATION

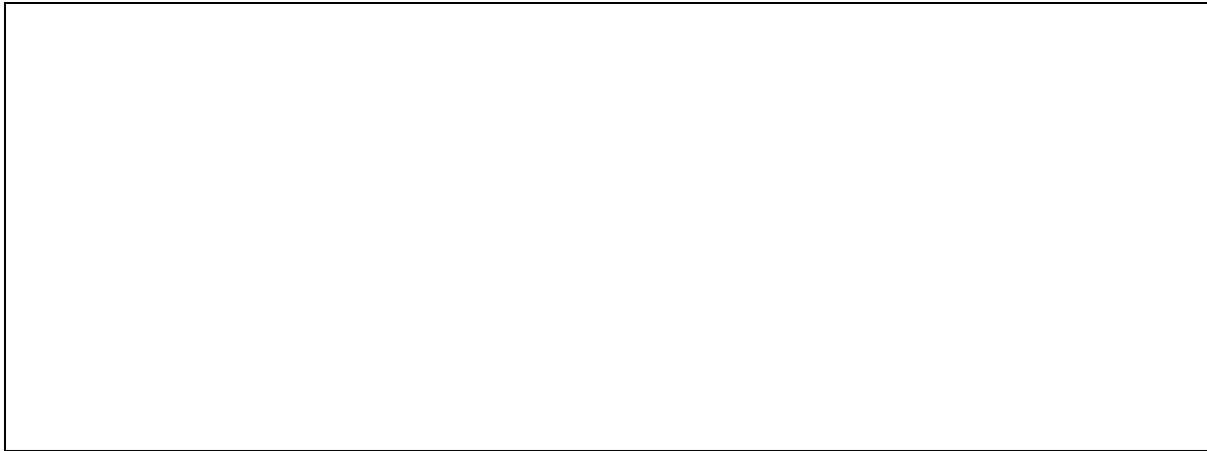

The title is clear and reflects the content of the paper.

The abstract synthesizes well the content of the paper.

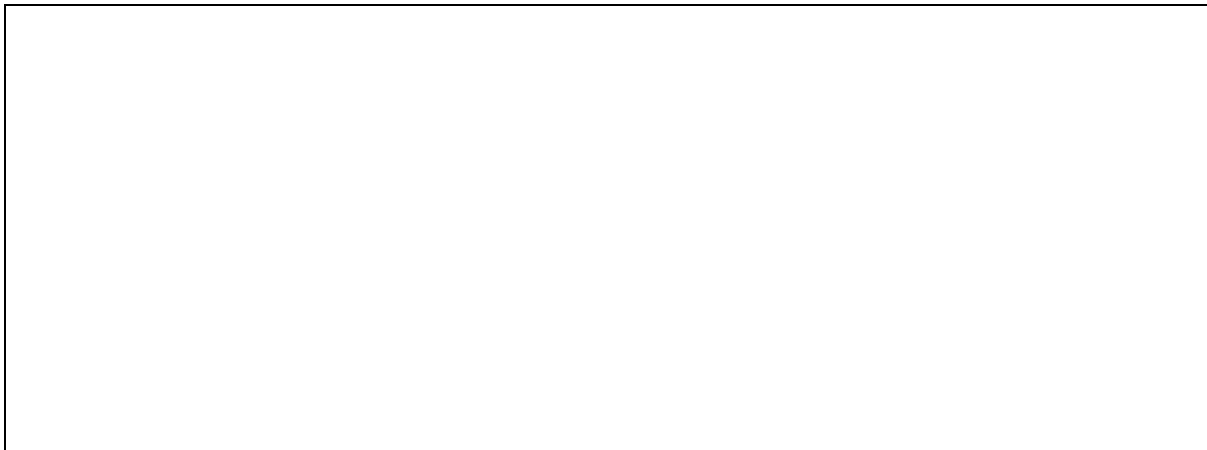

The introduction outlines the relevance of the article for the given field and presents a clearly formulated thesis.

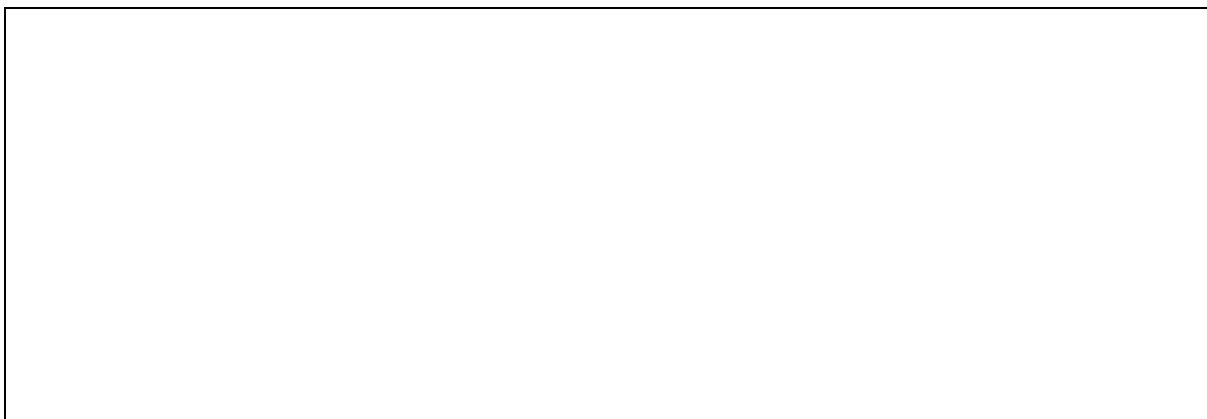

The introductory section of the article offers a good overview of previous studies on the same topic.

The methodology in use is coherently presented and there is a fair justification of it being preferred instead of other methodologies. / The paper has a solid and well-informed theoretical background, relevant for the analysis/ argumentation.

The paper is original and the contribution to the field is significant.

The conclusions summarize clearly the results and the consequences/ implications.

Recent and relevant bibliography. All of the sources cited in the paper can be found in the bibliography section.

The style of the paper is academic. There are no spelling, grammar, or language usage mistakes.
